About Humpy

At Humpy Co., we're a big fan of tiny living. As well as being one of the originals to bring flat-packed tiny homes to the world, we're also licensed builders, with a proud family history in residential building across Australia going back decades.

You might recognize our family of brands:

Humpy is a proud part of the Lowe Family.

Inspired by the local indigenous word for a small shelter or lean-to, Humpy's are designed to leave a small footprint with a big impression.

Australian-made with sustainable materials, Humpy Co. offers a range of flat-packed tiny home and granny-flat alternatives called Humpy Pods. Our flat pack approach means the entire process from your initial order where you can customise your pod's size, features and options, to the final manufacture and delivery is simple and fast.

Based in Bangalow and Melbourne with display villages in each, Humpy delivers and installs across QLD, NSW, VIC and TAS.

Work Pod Range

Our Work Pods give you the space to think without leaving home.

The last few years we have all needed a bit more space, and with the office tough to reach, we know just how costly disruptions and even renovations can be.

Our Work Pods are an eco-sustainable solution you can have installed in your backyard in as little as a day. Even better, they can be flat-packed and sold or relocated with you as your needs and life change.

So skip the reno, and explore our clever flat-packed options, all made from our termite-proof galvanised steel and Hardwood ply.

With 5 WFH sizes available (speak with us for larger options), our pods range from small backyard offices right up to studios with a bathroom, kitchenette and more.

Whether you're busy with Zoom calls and freelancing to client meetings and even fully-fledged eCommerce and consulting in your work, you'll love your Humpy as much as we do.

What makes your pod great?

- Installed in a day
- Council approval taken care of
- Minimal Mess and noise
- Access isn't an issue
- Robust clever design
- Easily relocatable

The Process

You Measure & Choose

Once you have a purpose and location in mind, we recommend you measure to see how much space you have and want.

Then you can select from one of our 5 Humpy sizes (see floorplans next page), and can choose the size that best fits your space and needs.

Customise Your Humpy

Once we you have a size in mind, our sales team can then help you select which windows and doors you'll need and where you'd like to place them.

Each Humpy is also available with a selection of add-ons ranging from airconditioning to kitchen, bathroom (with council approval) and decking and pergola options.

We Deliver & Install

Our team will then arrange a time to deliver and install your Humpy pod, without the fuss of cranes and minimal mess and noise thanks to our smart flat-pack design.

Smaller models can be installed in as little as a day depending on site access and whether council approval is needed*, but we'll also take care of any council applications should they be needed (usually for larger or more complex Humpy's).

Enjoy your new Humpy

With your new Humpy built and ready in just a few days, you'll have more space you can instantly start working in.

Your Humpy pod can be so much more than just a great office though, and can be relocated or repurposed later as needed for a range of lifestyle uses from yoga, podcasting, playrooms for little ones, and so much more.

*Residents in VIC/QLD don't need council approval for pods below 10m2. NSW Residents don't need council approval for pods below 20m2. For info, speaking with our sales team.

FAQs

Do I need Council approval?

In NSW, for any Humpy Pods under 20m you don't need Council approval. For VIC and parts of QLD, Humpy Pods don't need council approval Under 10m. Want to go bigger and add in amenities like a bathroom? You'll need council approval in most cases. Ask our friendly sales team about our Drafting Package if you'd like more information.

How long before I have my Humpy Pod?

From when you approve the design, our manufacturing timeline is from 4 to 6 weeks with installation to take place soon after. If Council approval is required the timeline will depend on your local council's workload.

What's included?

Your base Humpy Pod comes complete with everything you need to feel comfortable and get working day one. From the termite-proof galvanised steel frame, with premium-grade ply, to a Colorbond roof with gutter and downpipe. Inside there is wall and ceiling insulation, aluminium windows and a sliding door with flyscreens on all windows and doors, down lights, power points and flooring. Optional extras such as additional premium doors and windows from our range, as well as plumbing, airconditioning and additional rooms are available (the larger the build the more council approval required but we manage this for you).

What BAL rating is my Humpy Pod?

A Standard Humpy Co. Pod is covered up to a BAL 12.5*. If you are located in an area that is higher than BAL12.5 your pod will require a non-combustible exterior material (cement sheeting). Plus other small items needed to comply. Our highest rating for our pods is BAL 29. Speak with our friendly Pod experts if you'd like to know more.

How do I get electricity to my Humpy Pod?

All Humpy Pods are pre-wired in our local factory. All pods come standard with a 15amp inlet plug. So as long as you have a 15amp power outlet on your existing dwelling, all you need is a 15amp lead long enough to reach your pod. Humpy Pods can also be hardwired to your existing dwelling using a qualified electrician.

Customer Stories

Ocean Shores

October 2018

Everything about the process of getting our Humpy has been a delight. Michele and Travis provided professional and friendly customer service, answering all our questions thoroughly and promptly.

The installation process was as simple and quick as they promised - literally hours from start to finish.

The finished product is modern and stylish. We absolutely love our Humpy and are happy to recommend the product and the company to anyone.

Burleigh Waters

March 2019

We couldn't be happier with our Humpy. It looks amazing and has added so much to our existing house. The Humpy gives us an extra versatile area, which makes the rest of the house feel more spacious.

The whole process of getting a Humpy, from initially meeting Travis at the display office to final delivery, has been so easy. Humpy Co took care of everything and always kept us informed.

We are already talking about the possibility of getting another Humpy in the future.

Wilson's Creek

August 2018

Our Humpy was fully installed and completed in just a couple of days. The whole process from ordering to construction was seamless and easy. We've made a few adjustments to our plans and these changes were accommodated. We are very happy with the look and feel of our new humpy.

I will call Michele and Travis again if we need another little work space around here. I recommend them to anyone looking to easily install extra workspace or guest accommodations.
